

USE OF WHO VS. WHOM

Confusing And Often Overlooked

- If you can replace the word with “he” or “she” - use “who”
- If you can replace the word with “him” or “her” - use “whom”
- Who is the subject of the sentence
- Whom is object of a verb
- Or whom is can be a preposition

Examples

- WHO/WHOM is a good person.
- WHO/WHOM should I ask about getting a ride?
- The business is operated by WHO/WHOM?
- The business is operated by him/her? Or he/she?
- Answer: WHOM