

This is nice. I agree with you. I have one question about the things you mentioned. Even though I can deliver the report in 10 days, I might have to do some research and the deadline might be extended.

Also, after our conversation yesterday, I realized that I would like to sign a long-term contract because we are looking for a good long-term partner. The stuff we have accomplished so far has been good and we can benefit each other long-term.
