

Make up a story of a person who went on vacation to a remote town in Brazil. But add details and imagery that would make it emotional.

Story 1:

Joe went to Brazil. He hung out on the beach, went to local clubs, did some sightseeing, and went home in 7 days.

Story 2:

Joe traveled to a remote town in Brazil. He's 35 and he's never been to Brazil. He is going to a town where his father was born. Last year his father passed away and Joe is traveling to meet his father's distant cousins in hope that he can learn more about his father's childhood and his own culture. He did meet his father's cousins, stayed with them, developed connections with long-lost family members, reconnected with his culture, and went back every year after that. When Joe got married and had children, he began bringing his wife and kids with him.
